Guitar: The Instrument That Rocked The World

Harsco Science Center

Guitar Exhibit Hits All the Right Notes This Weekend

Visitors will be amped to see an exhibit featuring one of the most noteworthy instruments invented!

Harrisburg, PA- Visitors will experience the guitar like never before with Whitaker Center's new limited-time exhibit "GUITAR: The Instrument That Rocked The World." This touring exhibition of the National Guitar Museum opens on Saturday, June 4 and runs through September 4, 2016.

"GUITAR: The Instrument That Rocked The World" takes visitors on a visual and musical journey through the creation and evolution of the guitar. Guests will learn about the history of the instrument, see over 60 rare and unique guitars, and even play the world's largest guitar, making for an engaging and entertaining experience. Visitors of all ages can relate to the exhibit as the guitar has impacted all genres of music throughout history. The exhibit features hands-on activities, as well as interactive, family-friendly components.

Please visit <https://www.whitakercenter.org/guitar> for complete details.

Guitar: The Instrument That Rocked The World is included in Harsco Science Center admission.

Guitar is presented through the generosity of Harsco and sponsored by Bobby Rahal Lexus, Bayer, and McKnees Wallace & Nurick.
